THE proprietor of the BULLETIN has an apple tree in full bloom in his garden. The tree is of the Tetelky variety and has been growing in Edmonton since the spring of 1886. In growth it is more like a bush than a tree, but is about six feet high.

N. F. WILLIAMS of Gliechen, who has spent the past four weeks in the Edmonton district, called on the BULLETIN last week to say that he has found this district up to specifications in all particulars. It is the finest tract of the Northwest Territories for mixed farming that he has yet seen.

LAST week as John Eccles of Stony Plain was putting in his garden on ground in which potatoes had been grown last year he found several potatoes which had lain in the ground all winter at a depth of not more than eight inches without being affected by frost. CONSTABLE H. B. McLane, son of the late Bishop of Saskatchewan, died on Tuesday last at Athabasca landing of congestion of the lungs. INSR. HOWARD arrived on the train of last Monday and on Tuesday left for the Landing to take charge of the police detachment there. The detachment comprises nine men and Staff Sgt. Hetherington. THE Edmonton programme of sports for Wednesday next includes: gun club tournament, base ball, cricket, football and lawn tennis, mile bicycle race, 1 mile obstacle race, 100 yards dash, 50 yards sack race, 220 yards race, three legged race, egg race 50 yards and return, greasy pig, 120 yards hurdle race, 5 hurdles: mile trotting race, 1 mile running race, 1 mile dash pony race, mile foot race, putting the stone, vaulting with pole, and jumping. The Edmonton band and Fire Brigade band will be in attendance.

DR. TRUE, specialist in painless tooth pulling and corn and wart extracting, opened business in town in his peculiar way on Thursday night at the Alberta hotel corner and soon gathered a crowd. Several parties submitted to his operations for the removal of teeth and warts and all declared that the operation was complete and painless. He continued the show on Friday and Saturday nights. The wonder of his painless operations is entirely out done by the wonder of how his tongue and lungs sustain the demands which he makes upon their activity.

SOUTH EDMONTON will celebrate Her Majesty's birthday in elaborate style. The programme is long and varied and includes half-mile race of native ponies, half-mile farmers' trot, cow-boys' race in costume, slow race, and Indian pony race. Sports to begin at 10 a.m. on Wednesday.

On Friday morning as Messrs. Clark and May, new settlers in the district from England, were crossing the White Mud creek from the Rabbit hills at Knowles crossing the backboard was overturned by the current and both occupants thrown out. May swam to shore, and in doing so lost sight of his companion who could not swim. After searching for him for some time he came to the conclusion that he must be drowned and came to South Edmonton for assistance. A police constable went out to the scene of the accident, but on the way met the supposed to be drowned man coming in. It appears that although he could not swim he managed to cling to a floating log, which carried him about a mile down stream before he could land, which, however, he did at last safely on the west side of the creek, the same as he had started from. Before starting for home he found the horse and backboard, which had got out on the same side of the creek as himself. None of the parties to the accident are any the worse. The trouble was caused by the sudden rise in the creek from the rain of Wednesday night and Thursday.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

NOTICE.—An invitation is hereby given to the people of Edmonton, St. Albert and Morinville, to celebrate the St. Jean Baptiste (24th June) at Fort Saskatchewan by order of the president of St. Jean Baptiste society of Fort Saskatchewan.

Winnipeg Commercial, May 13: The weather continued fine and warm up to Wednesday night, and reports were beginning to come in that wheat seeding was drawing to a close in the earlier districts, where the soil was favorable to early seeding. Never before has seeding been rushed as it has been in Manitoba this year. On Wednesday night a heavy rain set in, which continued throughout Thursday. While this rain was welcome over a large portion of the province, it would further delay seeding on the wet lands, where seeding is in a less advanced state than is the general rule. There is, however, much less danger now of damage from winds, and the large portion of the wheat crop which has been sown will now come forward rapidly.

Messrs. W. C. Perkins, J. W. Green and J. B. Noyes who came to Edmonton in the latter part of April as delegates from New Hampshire write as follows to an eastern paper: "Our opinion of the Calgary and Edmonton country will be fully expressed by saying that we ourselves bought land and located 16 homesteads east of Wetaskiwin for those we represent in New Hampshire. In our opinion this is the most serviceable country for general farming and small stock raising to be found. There we find those three things dear to the heart of the eastern farmer,—wood, water and hay, as well as coal in plenty, and we believe there is a great future in store for that section."

The Canada Gazette contains an order in council amending the order in council of October 12, 1892, by substituting $1.25 for $2 as the price at which leaseholders affected by said order, or their assigns, shall be permitted to buy any grazing lands, the purchase money to be payable one-tenth down and the balance in nine equal annual payments, with interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum upon unpaid balances.

EDMONTON BULLETIN MAY 22ND, 1893

MORALS IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Prof. Goggin's lecture on the above subject in Robertson's hall on Thursday evening last was well attended. Mayor McCauley, chairman of the board of school trustees, was chairman, and introduced the lecturer of the evening in a neat and complimentary speech. A piano solo by Alex. McCauley followed; then a song by E. K. Goggin, "Down on the Old Farm," accompanied by Dr. McInnis; then a recitation by A. M. Campbell, "Charles Edward at Versailles," and then Prof. Goggin's address. It is impossible to do justice to the lecturer or his subject by giving a synopsis of his remarks. The address was appropriate, instructive, argumentative and convincing and gave the impression that the speaker was a practical educationalist, down to the smallest detail, and an enthusiast as well. Speaking to the parents and friends of children attending the public schools he took strong ground on the question of the moral training to be imparted in those schools and in the homes of the children as well. He laid great stress on the motive which should induce children to study, and held that if a child attained the highest proficiency in his studies only because of outward motives, he had received injury rather than good, for the constant exercise of the improper motive would probably, or almost certainly, form a habit of mind and cast of character that would be a detriment to his possessor and those coming in contact with him. Morality consisted in the motive rather than in the act. A child might be made obedient by motives that would unfit him for after life. He asked: Do character and scholarship hold their proper relationship to each other in our schools and homes? He held that conscience was to some extent a matter of education, that it was the duty of teachers and parents by example and precept to inform the child as to the dividing line between right and wrong; instilling a number of cases in which the division was sufficiently indistinct to give room for argument between grown up people. He also laid great stress on the teaching of cleanliness and good manners generally, going so far as to say that he would prefer a child to leave school poorly educated but with good manners rather than highly educated and with bad manners. He took occasion to say that his experience led him to the conclusion that this branch of education was generally better taught in Catholic than in Protestant schools. Speaking of the feelings of parents who feared to send their children to the public schools on account of the sometimes rough associations, and who sent them to private schools instead, he warned them that no matter how safely a child might be kept from all knowledge of evil while a child, a time must come when that could no longer be done. It was a delicate subject, but he thought it safer that a child should learn to choose good rather than evil while under the care and influence of the parent and thereby become fitted to choose for itself in after life, rather than not have the opportunity to make this choice until it had grown out of reach of home guidance and influence.

At the conclusion of Prof. Goggin's remarks, which were listened to with the deepest attention throughout, J. A. McDougall moved a vote of thanks. He had come expecting to hear something good, but had heard more than he expected. The reputation of the able lecturer had preceded him and he had no doubt that the educational affairs of the Territories would make great strides under his management. He assured the lecturer of a hearty welcome when he visited Edmonton again. John Cameron seconded the vote of thanks.

The chairman before asking for the vote said that he quite agreed with the remarks made by the mover. Parents and teachers would both profit by what they had heard from the lecturer. He (the speaker) had been connected with school affairs in Edmonton for a very long time, and he, too, felt that what he had heard would be an assistance to him in future.

Prof. Goggin acknowledged the compliment paid him in his happiest manner and the meeting closed with God Save the Queen.

Prince Albert correspondence of the Free Press: The steamboat Northwest will navigate the waters of the North Saskatchewan this summer. The Battleford Herald, of May 12th says of the prairie fires which have been raging near that town: Supt. Howe and the mounted police are doing everything they can to suppress these destructive fires, but unless public conscience is awakened and an example made of some who set them going, there seems little hope of success attending their efforts. The burning of wood is not the only injury to the country, for the growing grass is killed, and cattle and horses scattered or burned, so that under the most favorable circumstances it will take the stockman all the year to get his animals together. There is no doubt that the majority of these fires have their origin in criminal carelessness.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

The first teachers' institute in the Edmonton district was held in the public school buildings on Thursday and Friday last. Thursday's proceedings were conducted by Prof. Goggin, and Friday's by Insp. Hewgill. The following teachers were present: A. M. Campbell, principal and Misses Osborne and Dulmage assistants, Edmonton; Miss Clark, South Edmonton; Miss Lindsay, East Edmonton; C. B. Beck, Belmont; Miss Maxfield, Sturgeon; Miss Reath, Beaver Hills; Miss Mason, Horse Hills; W. F. Patterson, Poplar Lake; Rev. Father Quevillon, Cunningham, Miss Lepage, Fort Saskatchewan; Miss Marceau, Grenort; and J. B. Steele, Beaver Lake. The heavy rain of Wednesday no doubt kept others from attending. The object of the institute generally is to promote interchange of ideas and experiences amongst teachers, and in this instance as well to allow the superintendent of education and the inspector to meet all the teachers of the district at once and to speak to them on matters relating to the teaching profession. Others than teachers were permitted to be present. On Thursday forenoon Prof. Goggin lectured on The Recitation, having reference to the imparting of instruction orally by the teacher to the pupil. In the afternoon he dealt with the question of teaching "Literature." On Friday Mr. Campbell, principal of Edmonton school read a paper on the teaching of Canadian history. Miss Osborne of the intermediate department, Edmonton school, read a paper on "Teaching reading to the primary classes." Miss Dulmage of the junior department, Edmonton school, read "Notes on number work," or the teaching of the elements of arithmetic to the junior pupils. Insp. Hewgill addressed the institute on the "Teaching of Geography." At the close of Friday's proceedings a local teachers' institute was organized and arrangements made to hold a meeting of the teachers only sometime in the fall. A. M. Campbell is president, Miss Osborne, secretary, Mr. Steele, Miss Clark and Miss Maxfield managing committee.

A REPLY TO AN IMPORTANT QUESTION

Which is the best and cheapest Dry Goods Store in Town? is the question now frequently asked by the Settlers, who have recently arrived in this district. In answer to this important question, I would respectfully but emphatically reply, the

MANCHESTER HOUSE.

Dealing as I do almost exclusively in Dry Goods, I have always on hand a larger and better assorted stock than any house in Town. Prices too are cut so fine, that it is frequently remarked by those who seek quotations "Why you are selling as cheap as they do down east, and in fact in some cases cheaper."

Many of the lines have been personally selected in the best English Markets.
